

REGISTRATION, CANCELLATION AND REFUND POLICIES

Registration

We recommend booking early to ensure the availability of a guide. Although we will do our best to accommodate late registrations, please note, that depending on dates chosen there may be limited availability as we are often booked weeks in advance. Once we receive your payment you will be confirmed for the course or trip you request on a first-come, first-served basis.

Reservations with MAG (Montana Alpine Guides) are not transferable to third parties without prior approval by MAG.

Trip Insurance

Factors such as illness, injuries, family emergencies, business obligations, missed or canceled flights, lost baggage, etc., may require you to cancel or delay your trip. Unless you are willing to absorb the entire cost of your program in the event of a cancellation, we encourage you to obtain trip insurance to protect your investment. Please visit www.insuremytrip.com to shop for the policy that is right for you.

Refunds

By its very nature, mountaineering is an uncertain endeavor, and many factors can influence the outcome of a trip. While we understand that reaching the summit is important, and our guides will make every effort to do so safely, we cannot guarantee that you will summit or achieve all the objectives you may have set for yourself. Factors such as weather, route conditions, or your own abilities may create circumstances that make continuing with the climb unsafe or unwise, and you or your party may have to descend before reaching the summit or accomplishing your objectives. Accordingly, once a trip or class begins, we are unable to offer refunds for weather related cancellations, or for trips or classes that end prematurely due to weather, route conditions or circumstances within, or affecting, your group. Further, if you decide for any reason not to begin or continue with your climb, no credits or refunds will be given.

Waiting List

If a class or trip is full when we receive your registration and payment, we will notify you that you have been placed on a waiting list. If you decide to cancel your reservation while still on the waitlist, we will refund your payment.
